CH.1 THE HEIST

Birth of Soarshot

“These legendary warriors are now much needed, doomsday is on the horizon and there is little time before it approaches, go my messengers find them, it is their time now to SAVE US! The police sirens are ringing as 4 cop cars rush across and nearby a cool coffee shop in an area filled with flying cars with very pretty lights, and a nice coffee shop, walks out a mysterious young fellow, with dark and fancy sunglasses, a huge coat and normal looking clothes, named Louis Pauda. Louis as he tails the police in wonder of what events are taking place, he vanishes behind a burger joint and presses a metallic button on his front palm.

Alongside he screams “Suit now”.

with wires going up his sleeve. As he comes out from behind his hair turns green and spiky, his green eye and disgusting looking scar comes. He rushes as fast as he can towards those loud and dangerous police sirens as the events are for sure loud and unpredictable. The cop cars stop in front of the bank as Soarshot perches on an office building nearby.

“Chaos was a bad choice for you, prepare for pain!!!”

He says under his breath as he enters the building through an vent

The grunts fight their way through the robotic security guards as they march down to the safe as well as grabbing pieces of green paper they can.

We are going to be eating fine tonight!!! Boys!!!

The grunts chuckling as they implant a device onto the bank’s main office.

Soarshot comes crashing down from the ceiling, going head to head with every singular brutal grunt they can see. Picking them off one by one, kicking and punching his way through everyone, he slides under a couple shooting three separate arrows at three different ones pinning them to the wall by their suits and hands. Another one runs towards him as he swiftly dodges the guards, kicks him in the gut and whacks him away with his metal bow. Pins someone else down by their shoes, striking him on the gut and then over the head. He then gets into a fight with a way bigger grunt as they both block each other's attack.

The grunt says “So your the celebrity glad to finally meet you”

Soarshot shoots back saying “Get ready to sing for help!”

As he sweeps the legs of the big man and he crashes to the floor. The big grunt tries to roll away to get some space but Soarshot continuously kicks him in the stomach. The grunt gets some breathing room by blocking the incoming leg and then grabbing the next. As drags SoarShot to the ground, he starts pounding him. They get up together and then SoarsShot him into a crossface.

as he wrestles the big grunts as the big grunt yells “DON'T LET HIM GET IN!”

Soarshot replies “ BRAVO! wonderful soprano!”

The Grunt, slithers out Soarshot’s grip, but does not go too far as he is given a strong flying roundhouse kick. The titanium doors shut and Soarshot is cut off from the rest and the device that activates lasers through the main office door, there are guards in there too but they do not stand a chance. The rest of the team bolts through and tries to collect the bank data. Not long after, Soarshot breaks through the titanium door with the help of an explosive arrow. Some of the guards charge towards Soarshot.

Just hold him off as long as we can! The Guard downloading the data says.

But that does not stop Soarshot, he flies above but a lot of guards are surrounding the hacked computer as they fire laser bullets at him.

He presses the button on his palm as he says “EARS NOW!”

His suit lights up noise cancellation going into his ears as an incredibly loud ringing and hurts all the grunts. He swiftly nabs the USB port and crushes it in his hands anyways, and some of them run away.

“Big Mistake Pal! As the crew runs away.

“We are NOT DONE HERE!” Soarshot yells angrily.

Soarshot chases the grunt down in order to have them face true justice. All the last remaining grunts run as fast as they can towards the door but all of the police are present at the front door, so they get ready for battle. They lock and load all of their guns and chaos begins. Shots going left and right, as well as fast and ferocious. Everything stands at a stalemate for the moment.

The boss grunt shouts into his electronic watch

“HEY! CODE COLISEUM”!

The Responder says how many of you guys?

The boss says, scanning the area with his glasses and getting the number shouts “16”!

As this fight is in and outside of the bank. Soarshot runs not far behind but held up by other grunts.

DON'T LET A SINGLE ONE GET AWAY, STAND YOUR GROUND! The Chief of Police shouts out over his megaphone.

In the distance however an incredibly loud horn sounds causing all of the officers to turn their attention to it. The Horn came from a gigantic semi truck that is rushing through the streets.

WATCH OUT!! One officer screams, As all of the police officers immediately get out of the way.

The truck swerves onto the street where the bank is, as it crashes through most of the police cars that are parked in front of the bank, and leaving black, long tire marks on the street that the semi truck is joined by a few other cars as well. The doors open on the back of the semi truck and the cars open with the push of a button. All of the grunts speed away to leave the scene but now that Soarshot has defeated all of the rest tries to still stop them from leaving. Soarshot comes out of the front entrance but suddenly stops as he spots a symbol on the side of the truck. It's an orange circle with the head and horns of a bull with 2 orange dots as eyes. Soarshot is completely frozen and doesn't move until a gunshot sounds, he tries to jump away but it slightly grazes his shoulder and collapses to the ground.

The Grunts laughs and says, “ we're way too much for you kid, your lucks gonna run out.

As they all drive off rapidly and maneuvering all the vehicles in many sorts of ways

Soarshot says “ not the first of many scars thanks for a new one”!

The Chief yells at Soarshot, “HEY IT’S YOU! DON’T THINK FOR A SECOND YOU’RE OFF OUR RADAR EITHER SIR”!

Soarshot responds “STAY BACK I’VE GOT THIS COVERED”!

Soarshot flies after them, as he soars through the sky, and the police are not far behind. He finally finds the group of cars and the semi truck, there are four of the cars, two in the front and the others behind the semi. Soarshot is on their side and refuses to let them out of his sight. He struggles to reach for his bow,

He Shouts “Wings of Steel”! causing sharp knives to come out of his feathers

Soarshot dives and slashes the tires with them causing it to swerve in all directions and crashes into a pole.

Soarshot hears the screaming and crying from the citizens and yells at them “DON’T JUST STAND AND STARE, LEAVE THE AREA”!

Everyone runs and two of the grunts are already knocked out from the car crash. One of the grunts who sits on the driver's seat opens the doors and starts to strangle Soarshot, he grabs one of his arrows and stabs the grunts in the leg, headbutts him and then drop kicks him into the car. He jumps over the car to the other side and pulls the other grunt out; he throws him into the ground and recognizes it was the man who shot him.

“Hey! I owe you.” He says softly as the punt kicks him in the head.

He leaves to the remaining cars and the semi truck, he aims for the car in front of the truck as he breaks the window of the driver's seat and kicks the driver and the passenger out as there is no one at the wheel the car slows down and the semi crashes into it. The Semi pushes the car as it continues to to drive the other two grunts in the back dive out of the car. They roll on the ground for a bit and then try to get up. So they shoot them shots then in the show and they cry out in pain.

“Don’t go too far”! Soarshot says as cop cars pull up behind them.

“Last but not least,” Soarshot says

He flies to the front of the Semi truck and shoots the driver with a boxing glove arrow, he gets knocked out and the passenger next to him tries to take the wheel and slams on the brakes as he has poor control. The truck stops and rocks the back, shaking the rest onto the ground piled on top of each other. Soarshot then comes from the sky with a diving kick to the grunt as he simultaneously breaks the windshield. Soarshot opens the back doors as all of the grunts are still piled on top of each other. They eventually get up and get out, surrounding Soarshot

The Boss Grunt says “You have gotten away with too much, little man.”

Soarshot replies, “ I’m not thinking twice.”

Soarshot struggles to reach for his bow as his shoulder injury is still in effect. He jumps around looking for an opening but there is little.

He shouts” EARS ONCE MORE”!

The loud sound happens again and all of the grunts are covering their ears, he gets a good couple hits on some of them and then as the sound goes away he gets grabbed and thrown by one of them sent flying straight towards a car breaking the glass of a window a little. Soar shot stumbles to the ground and the boss grunt rushes towards attempting to strike with his knee, Soarshot rolls out of the way. He tries to get up but does not maintain balance but the police then shows up and distracts some of the grunts. him down but then the boss grunt intends to pay him back.

He shouts, “THIS IS ALL BECAUSE OF YOU”!

As he is on the floor with a bleeding with broken nose,

He shouts at all “SURRENDER BULLS THERE'S TOO MANY OF THEM”!

All of the bulls get cuffed there are only for remaining and taken off to prison as Soarshot flees off to the top of a building to let the police finish imprisoning everyone. When he approaches the top he takes a picture of the logo on the side of the truck.

CH.2 REMEMBRANCE

Soarshot returns to his lair located underneath a bridge not too far from the heist. Louis changes into his street clothes, he prints out the photo that he took of the orange bull and pins it to his bulletin board, alongside all the other pictures and documents that he collected from the night that changed his life forever. He stares at everything for a good while, and then proceeds to make himself a bowl of spaghetti and then falls asleep. He struggles to, as Louis rocks around everywhere, trying to get some much needed shut eye. He eventually falls asleep but starting dreaming about
